Residential Life

Of the 18,000 undergraduates attending UMass, roughly half of them live in the dorms, and the rest live in apartment complexes or in rented houses in nearby towns. Many people are defined by where they live—or judged by where they live. On campus, the five Residential Areas are: Central, Northeast, Orchard Hill, Southwest and Sylvan. Southwest is the largest, housing about 5,000 students.

Off-campus housing is the choice of many juniors and seniors at the University. In the Amherst area, there are many apartment complexes that cater to college students, including Puffton Village, Brandywine Apartments and Mill Valley Estates. Thousands of students live outside of Amherst, in surrounding towns Hadley, Northampton and Sunderland, among others. As well as the dorms, some of these off-campus apartments bring with them reputations of the residents.

More studying! Studying is a popular hobby at UMass.

Academics

The University of Massachusetts, Amherst serves more than 18,000 undergraduates with ten colleges and 90 majors. This year marked the introduction of the Commonwealth College to UMass. The Commonwealth College, which is open to all students with a 3.2 or higher grade point average, is designed to bring the feel of a small private college to the large public university.

Faculty and students in every department at the university are very active in their research. UMass has campus wide colloquia and presentations in every academic area on a daily basis. UMass also houses many nationally ranked programs, including the Polymer Science department, which was ranked number one in the country.

*"There are places I'll remember all my life, though some have changed.
Some forever not for better, some have gone and some remain.
All these places had their moments, with lovers and friends I still can recall.
Some are dead and some are living. In my life I've loved them all"*
~The Beatles

REFLECTIONS On Our Years

The University of Massachusetts at Amherst has been creating memories and shaping lives for over one hundred years. Although it began as a small agricultural college, it has grown into a major university consisting of ten schools, colleges, and facilities. At all levels, from Chancellor to Teaching Assistant, the University is committed to providing public higher education to each student that attends. Today the University serves almost 34,000 students, each working to create a future for themselves, striving to make their dream a reality.

Every year we watch thousands of our fellow students leave this University. We watch them laugh and cry as they realize they will be leaving a place that they have called home. We know that they will go through life with the confidence and knowledge that they have obtained from their time at this institution. After their time here, graduates have not only obtained the education that this University provides, but they have gained experience that has told them what they love. They have survived through what seems like a lifetime of crises, and developed friendships that they see as nothing less than never-ending. It is these adventures that shape our lives throughout our years in college, and it is the lessons that accompany these adventures that shape our personalities and futures. However, memories fade with time, and people who were once inseparable find that they have slowly drifted apart. Sadly, it is often the case that only when we realize that we have lost something do we appreciate what we had. It is then that we wish for the past and a way to hold it once again.

The Index is never going to be able to bring back every memory from college. However, what The Index can do is provide a connection with the past and open a world of memories that will allow you to reflect back on your life. It will remind you of who you are and help you to know how you got to where you are. The Index provides a link to your time in college, something that you will want desperately in the future. Best of luck to our graduates and the UMass community in the years to come.

Van Meter, the largest dorm on campus, as seen on a nearly cloudless day.

Butterfield is hidden amongst the trees, in the corner of campus.

A lone student makes the walk from Upper Central.

Central

Central is the second largest residential area on campus, and houses a diverse crowd of UMass undergraduates. Brett, Brooks, Wheeler and Gorman are at the bottom of the Hill. Students wishing to stay on campus over winter session can do so in Brett. The Wheeler Gallery displays art from students and local artists. Gorman is home to a residential program that works with students of color.

Baker, the second-largest dorm in Central, is next up the Hill, followed by Greenough and Chadbourne. The Josephine White Eagle Native American Cultural Center, as well as the Native American floor, is located in Chadbourne. Greenough has the Greenough Snack Bar in the basement, which sells sandwiches and snacks.

Van Meter, at the top of the Hill, is the largest dorm on campus. The first floor has a lounge used by many campus performers for their shows. Butterfield is one of the most unique dorms on campus; residents have the pleasant distinction of eating in their own dining hall, rather than the other Dining Commons used by everyone else.

Am I smart, funny, attractive or athletic? asks Jordan Zolon of Greenough.

Northeast

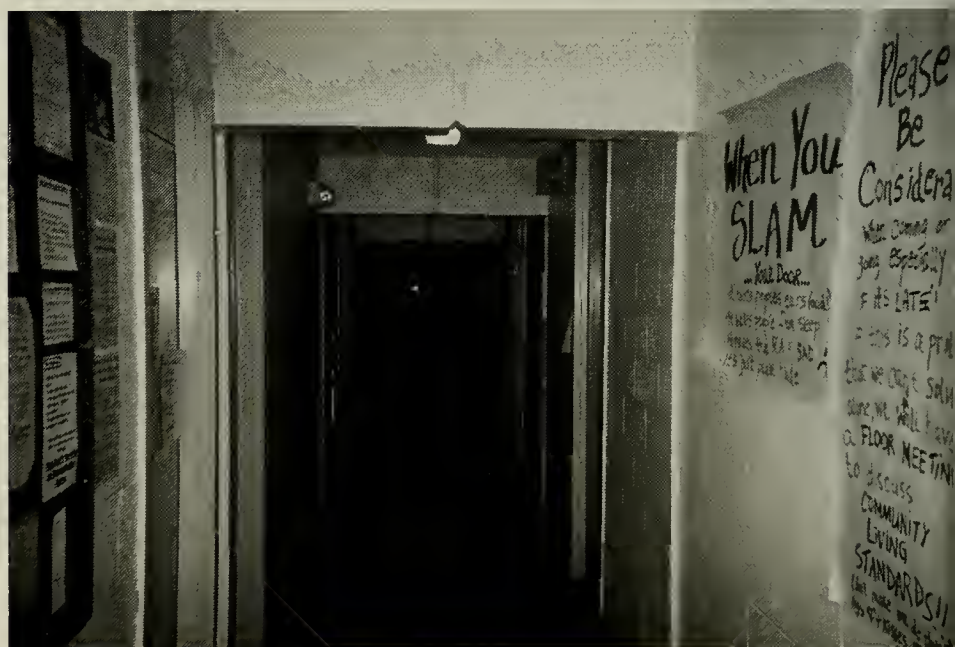

Located between Totman Physical Education Building, Lederle Graduate Research Center, and Worcester Dining Commons, Northeast provides convenient resources. This residential area has the prestige of being the oldest on campus and houses the United Asia Learning Resource Center and Foreign Language House. Students usually can be found playing frisbee or volleyball in the Quad, the grassy area around the dorms.

Johnson Dormitory, Northeast

Orchard Hill

The smallest residential area, Orchard Hill, provides some of the best surroundings on campus. Dickinson, Webster, Field and Grayson each house upwards of 300 students. Webster, in addition to the living spaces, is home to the Hilltop Body Shop, a free-weight gym open to members across the campus. Sweets-n-More is a favorite distraction for students of Orchard Hill, serving ice cream, cookies and other snacks. Students seeking state-of-the-art computer facilities can head to Grayson, which has a lab filled with Windows and Macintosh computers. Orchard Hill is also home to the Commonwealth College, a program for students who seek a more rigorous working environment. In addition to all that, Orchard Hill has Bowl Day each May, which is a day of fun for all residents, typically including live music, a 3-on-3 basketball tournament, and a cookout.

Kennedy and Coolidge Towers

Amid all the distractions in Southwest, a student still finds time to study.

Why make the walk to Southwest when the PVT will drive you there?

Do you think these two men ate at the Dining Hall that evening?

Southwest

Sixteen dorms, 5,000 students and one of the highest population densities in the world, and some people spend four years living there. The largest residential area is made up of eleven low-rise buildings and five 22-floor towers.

Even with so many distractions in the residential area, Southwest holds various academic and social programs to keep anyone busy. In many of the dorms there are Talent Advancement Programs (TAP), in which freshmen can live with other freshmen who have the same interest in major.

Spread about Southwest are TAP floors in biology, math, english, psychology, and many other disciplines. Southwest is also home to the Stonewall Center, a resource center for the Lesbian, Gay, Bi-sexual and Transgender community at UMass.

McNamara Dorm, Sylvan

Sylvan

Located in the corner of campus, just up the hill from Totman Gymnasium, Sylvan is home to three buildings that offer suite-style living- which is not offered anywhere else on campus.

Cashin, McNamara and Brown house students in suites that contains four to five bedrooms, one bathroom, and one lounge. Six to eight students are assigned to each suite, designated as either a male or female suite. Suites are ideal for students who want to share their living space with many of their friends.

Sylvan has two floors of non-traditional age students, and McNamara is home to the area's snack bar.

O

ff-Campus Housing

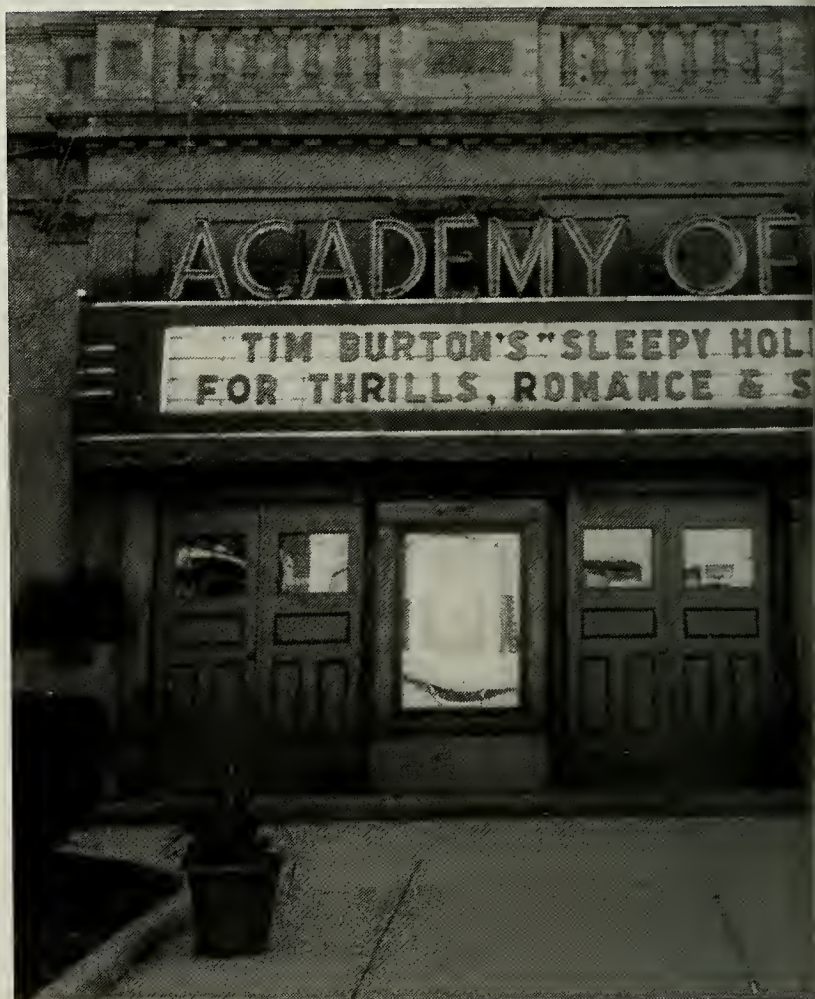

Forty-one percent of UMass undergrads live off-campus, from Northampton to Sunderland, and in many other surrounding communities. The majority of the students living off campus live in apartment complexes designed for college students.

An integral part of off-campus life is the variety of distractions offered to students in Amherst Center, Hadley and Northampton.

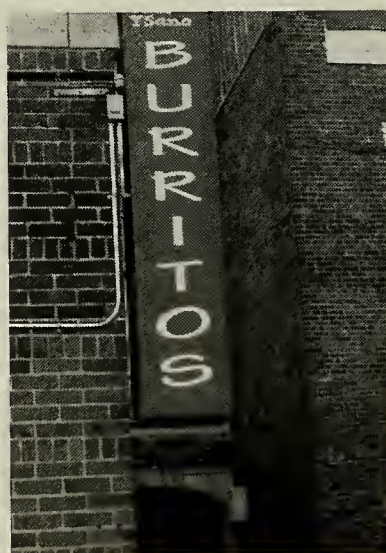

Students meet at many of the restaurants in Amherst or Hadley, or any of the coffee shops or theaters in Northampton.

The Calvin is a popular place for entertainment in the Valley.

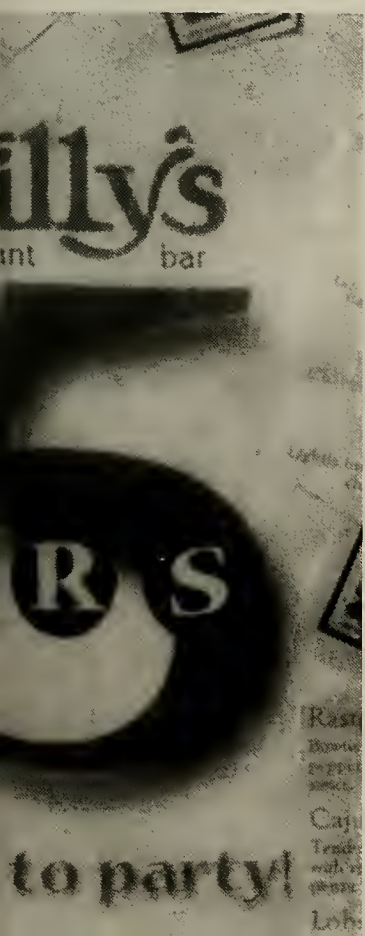

The Academy of Music Theater in Northampton shows many movies and operas, in many languages. It's one of the oldest buildings in the area.

For the best mexican food around, most students flock to Bueno y Sano for lunch and/or dinner.

Fitzwilly's has been around for 25 years, as the sign says.

Cliffside Apartments (appropriately enough) borders a cliff on Route 116 in Sunderland. Most of the residents are UMass students or faculty.

Across the street from Cliffside Apts., Squire Village also houses many UMass students. While it may be far from campus, the PVTA takes care of the residents.

Every food experience is possible in Amherst Center. There's no better way to wash down a slice of Antonio's pizza then with a Bananarama shake.

Brandywine Apartments may have the best location- centered around a pool and a pond, and between Puffton Village and the Towne Houses.

Many houses in North Amherst are rented out to college students every year, such as this one on Meadow Street.

The most popular and most populous apartment complex in Amherst is Puffton Village.

Off-Campus Housing

Hobart Lane is infamous for its crazy residents and crazier parties.

Registered Student Organizations

Student Union

Craft Center

The Student Union Craft Center provides a relaxed atmosphere in which all members of the University community can work on a craft within their own schedule. They provide tools and instructions at all levels free of charge, for stained glass, silver jewelry, beadings, fimo, mask-making, batik, tie-dye, sewing, silk-painting, silk-screening, marblizing, leather, photography, and linoleum block printing. They will sell you materials or you may bring your own. They welcome complete beginners as well as the advanced. You may drop in any time they're open. They are available for your assistance whenever you need it, either for getting started on a craft, or helping you fix something in need of repair. You may also take advantage of their special month-long workshops offered to beginners for a small fee. They are located in the basement of the Student Union.

People's Market

People's Market is a cooperative student-business founded in 1973, and located in the Student Union. It is one of eight other cooperative run student-businesses on campus, which is one of the largest communities of its kind. People's Market is a close-knit community in itself. The students who work there are dedicated to providing a socially conscious place for the University to buy fresh and natural whole foods, and educating its customers about the cooperative and collective movements, among other social and political issues. The People's Market co-managers and other employees work very hard at balancing their studies and keeping the market running as the unique resource that it is. We would like to thank the graduating members of our business and wish the entire Class of 2000 good luck. It was a pleasure to serve you breakfast.

"People's Market is a close-knit community in itself."

Active Ingredients

Active Ingredients is one of UMass's most prominent sketch comedy troupes. They were founded in the Fall of '98 and currently consist of the following people: Robert Killeen, Michael Milner, Ottavia D'Alelio, Jordan Zolan, Sean White, Melissa Fendell, Patrick Mularski, Nick Keenan, Sue Abbott, Robin Melendez, and Clinton Racine. The group writes, produces, and performs their original material in dorm buildings around the UMass campus. They average three performances a semester at roughly an hour per show.

Although they are still in their early years, they are just now beginning to spread their wings and become more well-known throughout the Five-College community. Whether through song, short snippets of silliness, or in your face entertainment, they provide their audience with a multi-media sketch comedy experience to be remembered. Oh, and yes, they love Rocky Road Ice Cream.

"Whether through song, short snippets of silliness, or in your face entertainment, they provide their audience with a multi-media sketch comedy experience..."

Campus Design & Copy

403 Student Union, Amherst, MA 01002

CAMPUS DESIGN & COPY IS A BUSINESS INITIATED, RUN AND MANAGED BY UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS AT AMHERST. OUR PURPOSE HAS THREE MAIN OBJECTIVES: TO PROVIDE UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS WITH EXPERIENCE IN TRAINING AND COLLECTIVE MANAGEMENT; TO SERVE THE UNIVERSITY WITH COPYING, DESIGN, BINDING, FAXING, COMPUTER, AND NOTE SERVICES; AND TO PROMOTE THE CO-OPERATIVE AND COLLECTIVE MOVEMENTS. WE AIM PROMOTE DIVERSITY, AND EQUALITY AMONG THE CO-MANAGERS IN OUR WORKPLACE. CD&C IS NON-PROFIT, AND OPERATES UNDER THE MODEL:

"STUDENTS WORKING FOR STUDENTS."

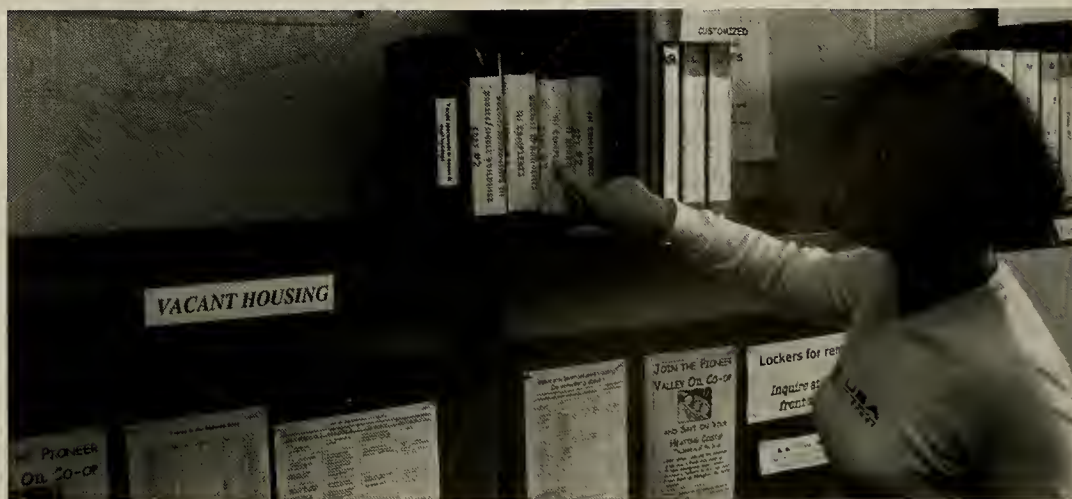

Commuter Services

Commuter Services and Housing Resource Center (CSHRC) is a free rental listing service that provides help to both those seeking housing and those trying to rent property. Prior to 1977, students wishing to live off campus had no agency or office on campus to help them find housing in the local community. The only exception was a bulletin board immediately outside the Housing Office in Whitmore which collected housing advertisements. Since its inception in the spring of 1977, the Off Campus Housing Office has continually expanded its services to commuter students and in 1993 changed its name to Commuter Services and Housing Resource Center.

CSHRC offers a wide range of services including: a free rental listing service, both in our office and on line; advocacy and education for the student tenant population regarding housing issues and landlord/tenant rights and responsibilities; the HomeSharing program in which renters are matched with householders who are willing to exchange services for rent; childcare scholarships to undergraduate student parents who need assistance paying for childcare; the Dinner On Us program, a free dinnertime workshop for families with infants and young children; and much more.

CSHRC serves a diverse population of first time renters, families, minority and international students, people from the community at large, people with special needs, transients as well as students, and students from other schools in the area. No doubt many of you in the Class of 2000 have been through our doors or looked us up on-line. We thank you for your support and wish you good luck in the years to come!

Alive With Dance

Here at UMass, students have the opportunity to flex their creative muscles, literally. Every year, Alive With Dance produces a student-run, student-choreographed, and student-performed evening of dance. In the fall, students audition to be in work choreographed by other students. Dancers from all backgrounds (about fifty students) participate in this RSO on a yearly basis. Unlike past Alive With Dance concerts, this year's production included modern, jazz, lyrical, and contemporary ballet incorporating multi-media, live music and innovative set design and lighting.

"With dance as the common thread AWD transforms UMass students into a group of collaborating and aspiring artists. The work that is produced by the student body is dance in its freshest and youngest stage," Melissa Kopeloff, AWD President.

This year's spring production included choreography by Amy Batchelder (Dance '00), Denise Brown (Apparel Marketing '00), Amber Crooker (Dance '00), Irada Djelassi (Dance '00), Vicki Kafka (Dance '00), Melissa Kopeloff (Dance '00), Chrystie Lane (Dance '00), Heidi Miller (Dance '00), MiRi Park (Journalism, Dance '00), Aimee Puskar (Education, Dance '01), Anne Ramsay (Finance '00) and John Wrzos (Dance '00).

TIX Unlimited

Tickets Unlimited is a non-profit student-run business that handles ticket sales for RSO events and some off-campus concerts. It functions through a consensus decision-making process with each member holding the same voting power. TIX works closely with the SGA, the Center for Student Business, and the Campus Activities Office. TIX works with diverse organizations from the LGBT to BMCP to UPC. The members of the office are 100% responsible for all monies entering RSOs through ticket sales. TIX serves on various committees throughout the University, including the UC 2000 and the Programming Board. Entering the world of TIX means entering an entire composite of the administrative and academic world of the University.

Members at TIX come from all backgrounds and thought patterns. The group dynamics constantly challenge each individual to excellence. All voices are heard equally so that every new staff member changes the direction of the office. Therefore, it is always a dynamic environment. Members are hired as freshmen and sophomores but stay throughout their college careers. TIX looks for focused people with strong backgrounds in money handling and open attitudes. This year, the business employed seven people.

Massachusetts Community WaterWatch

WaterWatch works in partnership with MASSPIRG at UMass, working on environmental education, stream monitoring and community cleanups. WaterWatch volunteers teach environmental lessons to local schools in the Valley. They also research the local rivers and streams, with the help of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Services. The volunteers participate in cleanups of local rivers and streams, and organize a huge Earth Day cleanup.

WaterWatch volunteers participate in a river cleanup in December, 1999.

These WaterWatch volunteers are getting tired of finding trash in the local rivers. They are part of the Source to Sea River Cleanup, October 1999

The Newman Student Association

The Newman Student Association is a group of Catholic Christian students whose purpose is to serve the spiritual, social, and service needs of the community. They see this happening as they grow individually and as a whole through Christ, realizing their limitations and yet having faith in the power of God. This faith calls them to be people of God in a family of love.

The members of the Newman Student Association wish to congratulate the Class of 2000 on the completion of their years at the University of Massachusetts. Most especially, they would like to thank those graduating NSA members who shared their time, talents, and spirits with them. May God grant you continued success and abundant blessings in the future, no matter where the road may lead you.

Chi Omega

Chi Omega was founded in 1895 at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville. It was founded on six simple purposes: Friendship, High Standards of Personnel, Sincere Learning and Creditable Scholarship, Community Service, Campus Activities and Career Development. From this simple beginning, Chi Omega grew to become the second largest women's organization and the largest sorority in the country with over 250,000 initiated members.

Founded here at the University in 1941, the Iota Betas have been campus leaders, athletes and scholars ever since. This year, the house is number one in scholarship. They are proud of their phenomenal sisterhood and wish their seniors the best of luck in all of their endeavors! Congratulations!

The Index

As the third oldest yearbook in the country, the Index has been preserving memories for over 125 years. Run entirely by a student staff, the Index yearbook seeks to capture the spirit and experience of a UMass education. The Index offers a unique and rewarding experience by providing students with the opportunity to learn publishing, editing, and managing skills.

Theatre Guild

The UMass Theatre Guild, which turned 94 years-old this year, has enjoyed many years of theatrical success. Starting out as an Operetta and Music Guild, UMTG is one of the oldest remaining Registered Student Organizations at UMass. Over the years, UMTG has enjoyed four name changes, adopting the current UMass Theatre Guild in 1990. Since that time, UMTG has graced the UMass community with two plays and two musicals every year.

UMTG looks to provide a social and educational forum for any student to come and participate in theater. All aspects of theater, including design, performance, and production, are run by students. Recent shows include Guys & Dolls, Noises Off, Reckless, Little Shop of Horrors, SubUrbia, The Wiz, and You Can't Take It With You. Along with these shows, UMTG has begun expanding into new activities such as a coffee house every semester and various other theater related activities.

Mission Improbable

Ballroom Dance Club

The UMass Ballroom Dance Club is an organization on campus whose goal is to promote interest and knowledge in ballroom dancing. This group meets weekly on campus and teaches its members different dances that can accompany classical music to the latest popular music. The dances range from ballroom dances such as waltzes and foxtrot, to the upbeat swing dancing, where there are jumps and throws, to the sensual latin dancing, such as cha cha and rumba. The club reaches out to the rest of the student population by sponsoring two dances per semester. It has been a success in making the world of ballroom more known to the general student body.

Aside from social dancing, the UMass Ballroom Dance Club has a branch that acknowledges the competitive world of ballroom dancing. Meeting on weekly basis, the team practices and prepares for competitions hosted by other colleges around the eastern part of the United States. The UMass Ballroom Dance has made dancing more recognized on campus.

The Outing Club

The Asian American Students Association was created in 1975 with the mission of serving the needs and interests of and creating a supportive atmosphere for the Asian and Asian American students at the University. AASA's goals include advocating unity among Asians and Asian Americans as well as promoting the views, voices, and experiences of Asians and Asian American students. AASA strives to provide a concrete foundation be it through social, educational, and/or political means. AASA also promotes the understanding of the Asian and Asian American community and its surrounding communities.

La Unidad Latina Lambda Upsilon Lambda Fraternity, Inc.

La Unidad Latina, Lambda Upsilon Lambda Fraternity, Incorporated recognizes the importance of focusing the strength of many on a common purpose. As a result, the Brotherhood emphasizes community involvement, with an eye towards leading by example. By organizing and encouraging participation in volunteer efforts, La Hermandad increases the effectiveness of its ability to provide services to those most in need.

In the cultural arena, every chapter of Lambda Upsilon Lambda dedicates itself to exploring and propagating the vast richness of the Latino heritage. By sharing our history and culture with each other and those in the general community, the Brotherhood gains a much better understanding of itself, while at the same time raising public consciousness. We create an atmosphere where we can be ourselves, and at the same time relate to others who share similar backgrounds and experiences. Most importantly, in creating a feeling of family, every Hermano has a place that he can truly call home, a place where he will be respected and supported. In doing so, La Unidad Latina, Lambda Upsilon Lambda Fraternity, Incorporated redefines the concept of Brotherhood.

Bike Co-op

The UMass Bike Co-op is a student run business that serves the UMass community. We offer a convenient, low cost alternative to conventional bike shops by providing reasonably priced, quality service, and by maintaining a forum for our members to teach both our customers and each other about all aspects of bicycle repair.

The members of the Bike Co-op have enthusiasm for cycling and/or the maintenance and repair of bicycles, as well as a great interest in gaining the educational experience achieved through the operation of a successful, student-run business. We incorporate the diverse knowledge and experience of our members, emphasizing that while mechanical expertise is a plus, a strong desire to contribute to our business is our primary criteria.

Although in the past we operated on a strictly volunteer basis, we have recently been able to implement an appropriate payroll system which allows us to offer some financial incentive to our mechanically experienced workers. We now schedule our qualified mechanics to work with a less experienced volunteer during our shop hours. Each mechanic is responsible for both his/her own work as well as for training and overseeing the work of the volunteer on his/her shift.

Academics

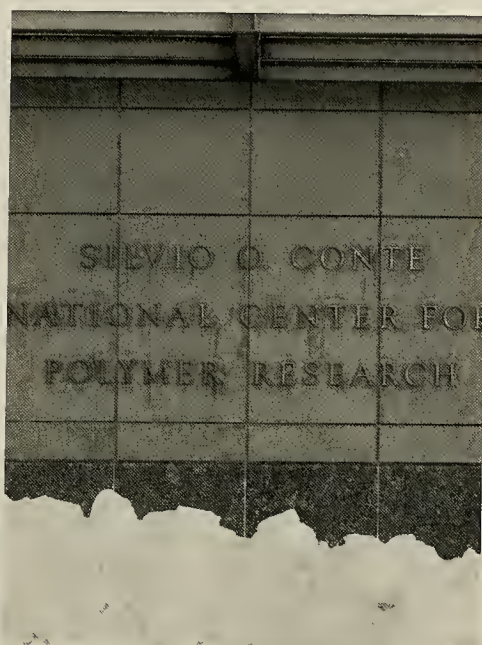

College of Humanities and Fine Arts

The College of Humanities and Fine Arts is one of the largest and most diverse in this University. It encompasses departments ranging from Music and Dance to Foreign Languages. Every student in the University will have some connection with this college, whether they are majoring in one of the departments or taking the time to enjoy a Theater Department production or the UMass Marching Band.

The College of Fine Arts and Humanities has received several honors in the past few years. The Foreign Languages department's doctoral program was rated first in the nation. In addition the faculty of the College of Fine Arts and Humanities have published more than 20 books in the past year.

The College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics

The College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics provides a high quality education for all of its students.

Whatever field interests a student, from medicine to physics, he or she can find great opportunities in this college.

All of the departments in this college are extremely active. The campus chapter of the Society of Physics Students was recently ranked first in the north east. Also, the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics is home to the Department of Polymer Sciences which was ranked first in the Nation.

The College of Social and Behavioral Sciences

The College of Social and Behavioral Sciences encompasses such important departments as psychology, sociology, legal studies, and criminal justice. This college prepares a vast number of people for their careers. For example the psychology department alone has more than one thousand undergraduates.

Students from the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences can go on to a broad variety of professions, from lawyers and police officers, to psychologists and social workers. Whatever field a student chooses, he or she can find opportunities in this academically diverse college.

The College of Engineering

The College of Engineering is one of the most important colleges on campus. The College of Engineering trains its students in the most modern technologies available. Each of the programs in engineering is strong, and many of them are nationally ranked. The College of Engineering also sponsors programs for minorities and women in engineering, better serving these groups of students.

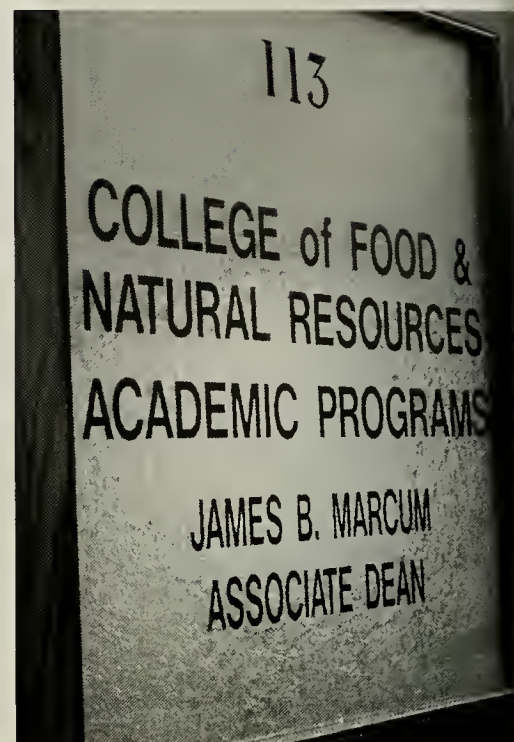

Students in the College of Engineering can choose from a wide variety of fields from Chemical Engineering to Mechanical Engineering. In addition, the College of Engineering sponsors distance learning and outreach programs to make the UMass education a viable option for all.

The College of Food and Natural Resources

The College of Food and Natural Resources is dedicated to fulfilling the purpose of a land grant University by providing a quality education to all students. Students of the College of Food and Natural Resources are instructed in the four cornerstones of this college: Applied Management, Environment, Planning and Design, and Plant and Animal Systems.

The College of Food and Natural Resources houses the Stockbridge School of Agriculture which has trained people in the sciences of land management and husbandry since 1918, producing more than 9,000 graduates. The College of Food and Natural Resources sponsors the Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment Station.

The School of Nursing

The School of Nursing is committed to providing quality education for all of its students. The School of Nursing follows the guidelines of the American Nurses Association to ensure that each of its students is fully qualified to enter into the field after graduation.

The College of Nursing, while one of the smaller schools in the university, is making great strides to preserve its autonomy on campus. The College of Nursing has a brand new, $7 million building in the works. This year the college is sponsoring a "Research Day" to highlight the work of both students and faculty in the college. These are both great achievements of a college that went from having 18 graduates in 1988 to more than 600 enrolled less than ten years later.

The School of Public Health

The School of Public Health at the University of Massachusetts is the only such state funded school in the commonwealth! This college is devoted to instructing its students in procedure to promote health and well being and prevent disease.

This schools encourages its faculty to work in the field, investigating issues in public health. The school sponsors numerous outreach programs to benefit the communities of western Massachusetts. Above all, this school is committed to providing its students with the skills necessary to promote effective public health for all.

The School of Education

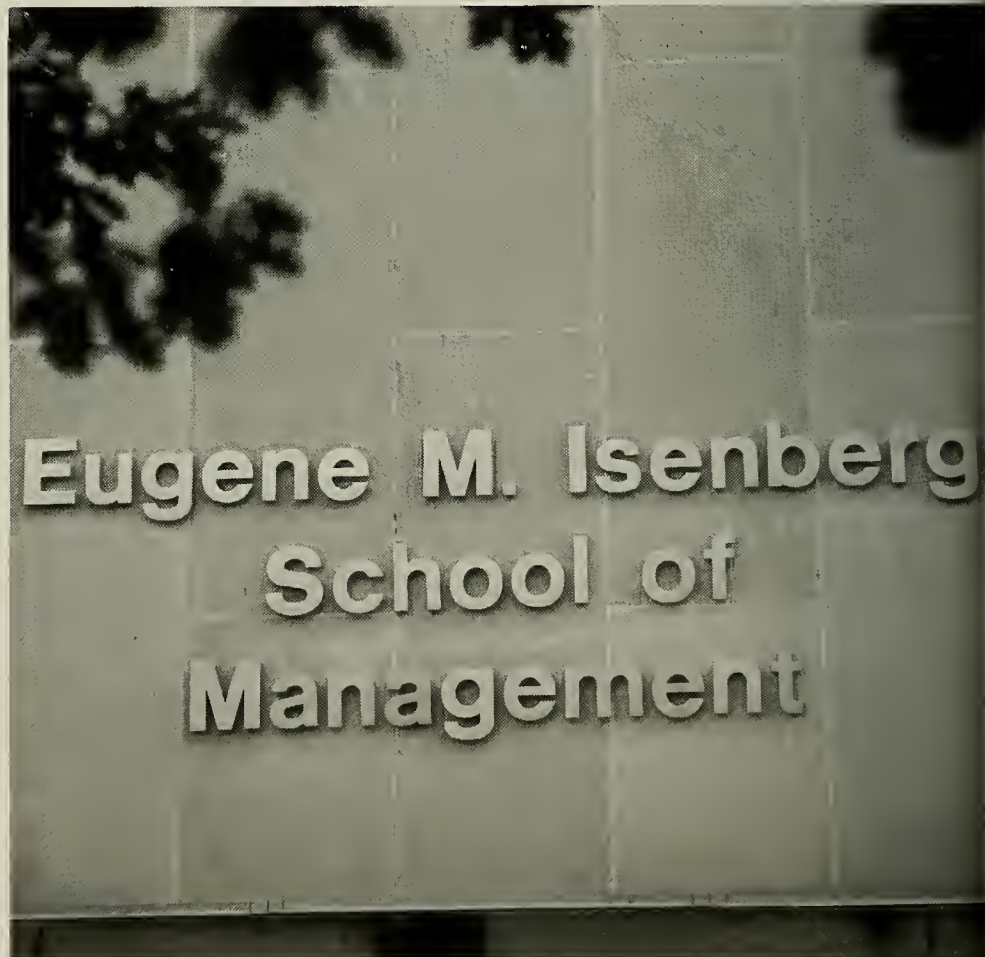

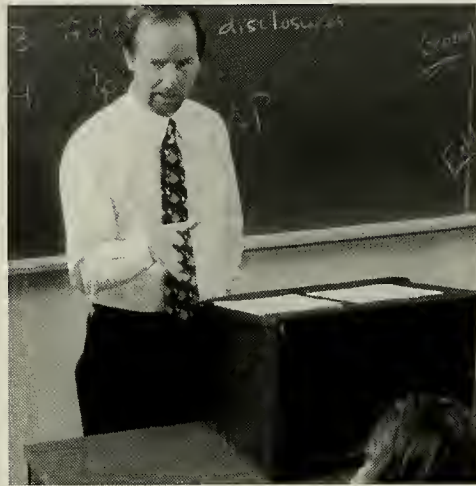

The School of Education is committed to preparing its students to be the best teachers possible. The school of education offers a rigorous course of study designed to produce teachers ready to handle the diverse environments of schools today. The School of Education stands at the forefront of the discussion in Massachusetts about education and teacher certification. This school is preparing and implementing new programs in conjunction with commonwealth college and other departments to ensure that the teachers from UMass are the best qualified in the field.

The School of Management

The School of Management is paving the way into the 21st century with high quality programs designed to prepare its students for careers in management. This school encourages its faculty and students to pursue research in fields that are of importance to the university and the fields related to management in general.

Students in this school have many options of study from the basic study of managing complex situations in a business environment to the techniques and principles of accounting and financial management. A student of this school is certain to be prepared for the future because of the vast amounts of time and money that are put in by the school and its departments.

Commonwealth College

The 1999-2000 school year marks the inaugural year for the Commonwealth College. The Commonwealth College is the new honors program at UMass. It was created to provide gifted and talented students at UMass with the same opportunities of a prestigious private college along with the resources available at a public University.

Students in the Commonwealth College are encouraged to do research in their field. In fact, each student in Commonwealth College is required to pursue an independent research project with the department of their major. In addition, Commonwealth College students are required to complete computer literacy and public speaking requirements in order to make them more competitive in today's technologically advanced and demanding job market.

Teaching, Research, Outreach and Advisor Awards

The Distinguished Teaching Award, established in 1962 and original called the Metawampe Award, is considered the most prestigious prize at the University for excellence in the classroom. The faculty that receive this award are given a monetary award of $3000 and the teaching assistant receive $2000. The nominations for this award are made by current and former students. A committee comprised of faculty, undergraduates, and previous graduate student winners choose the winners.

The three professors who received the Distinguished Teaching Award for the 1999-2000 academic year are Classics Professor Marios Philippides, Chemistry Associated Professor William Vining, and Communication Professor Sut Jhally. The teaching assistants who received the distinguished awards were Steven Symington of Environmental Science and Thomas Kealey of English.

Biology Professor William Bemis, Natural Science Conservation Professor Todd Fuller, Polymer Science and Engineering Professor Thomas

McCarthy, and Art Professor Richard Yarte Received the Samuel J. Con Faculty Fellowship.

The Fellowship recipients receive a one year's leave from teaching and $3000 to pursue graduate education, creative work, or research. Nominations are made by department head and the winners are chosen by the Faculty Senate's Research Council.

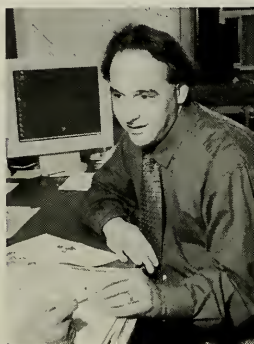

The Distinguished Outreach Award is given to recognize the excellence of a faculty member to academic outreach. The award also honors faculty who fulfill the outreach component of the University Mission Statement.

The Distinguished Outreach Award was given to Anthropology Professor Art Keene and Landscape Architecture Professor John Mullin.

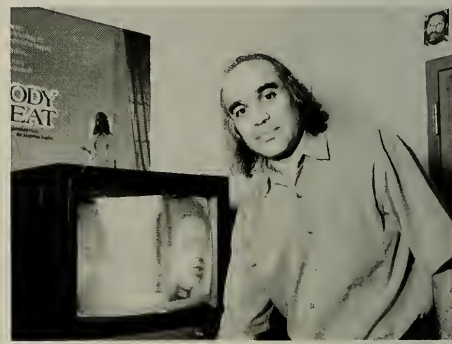

Assistant Director of the Arts and Sciences Advising Sandra Pirello and Academic Coordinator of the Biology Department and Assistant Professor Bruce Byers received the Outstanding Advisors Award.

Defending National Champs enjoy another successful campaign

This year's UMass football team came into this season with both confidence and high hopes of another Championship run. Last year's magical season had restored the tradition of great UMass football, and this season turned into a continuation of that effort. After a slow 1-3 start, the defending national champions turned it up a notch and ended the regular season on a seven game winning streak.

A second straight trip to the NCAA Tournament was in order with a remarkable overtime win in the first round, before coming up just short in the quarterfinals.

This ended another remarkable season for the UMass football team; a season that should be looked back on as part of the catalyst that started a great tradition of UMass football.

Senior quarterback Todd Bankhead (left) looks to hand off the ball, while Marcel Shipp (below) runs towards the endzone for the score.

“Time spent with the guys just being guys, having fun...that is what I will miss the most.”

1999 Squad turns in another impressive season

The 1999 Field Hockey team had a season that will be looked back on as one of the greatest in the UMass program's history. This season marked the second in four years that the Minutewomen have gone undefeated in the Atlantic 10 Conference, a conference which they have won four consecutive years. This season featured an eleven game mid-season winning streak, and landed the team in the NCAA tournament. For the first time in the last four years, the Minutewomen advanced to the Elite Eight of the NCAA tournament. This team had a very strong season, not only playing one of the hardest schedules in the country, but playing for a school that has built a tradition of Field Hockey success. This is something that this team continued this season.

Men's Water Polo

Coming off of last seasons success this years men's water polo team had a significant task ahead of them. In the end, they prevailed with an immense amount of victories. They finished the season with a total of twenty-nine and six, which is an indisputable triumph. Opening the season with a fifteen to one win against Navy Invitational, the team then headed to the Eastern Championships. Since 1987 the Minutemen have historically dominated this particular competition. And, to maintain and persevere this distinguished record, they came in first place, which included a ticket to the NCAA tournament. This year would represent their sixth appearance at the NCAA tournament, with the two years previous coming in a notable place of fourth. Again, they kept up their astounding season, and finished the year with an impressive national third place standing. Which not only is the highest finish in school history, but is also an end to a phenomenal run.

Men's Soccer

As Todd Baron, a midfielder of the men's soccer team, said, "We did a complete turnaround." Going from last season's mild record of 4-12 to an impressive 13-7 shows a drastic improvement. Not only was their season an improvement, but their total wins were the third most in school history. Seven returning starters and the commendable finish to last year (winning their last two games) evidently initiated their newfound optimism. This exhilaration and skill guided them through a terrific season and lead them to the Atlantic 10 Championship. Their successful year was ended by a defeat at the hands of the Rhode Island Rams.

Sophomore Fred Kinatader is determined to gain control of the ball.

O M E N ' S

The 1999 Women's Soccer team made great strides this year to continue the great tradition of successful women's soccer at UMass. A season that started with many questions turned into another great year for the soccer program. The season was highlighted by senior Emma Kurowski breaking the school's all-time scoring record. Along with Kurowski's record breaking season, the team also had a mid-season six game winning streak to help propel them into the Atlantic 10 Tournament. The team compiled an 11-5-1 record during the season, to turn this season of questions into a season of success.

“Being on a sports team automatically makes you part of the school. It is awesome to be a part of a team in the UMass Athletic Department.”

- Emma Kurowski

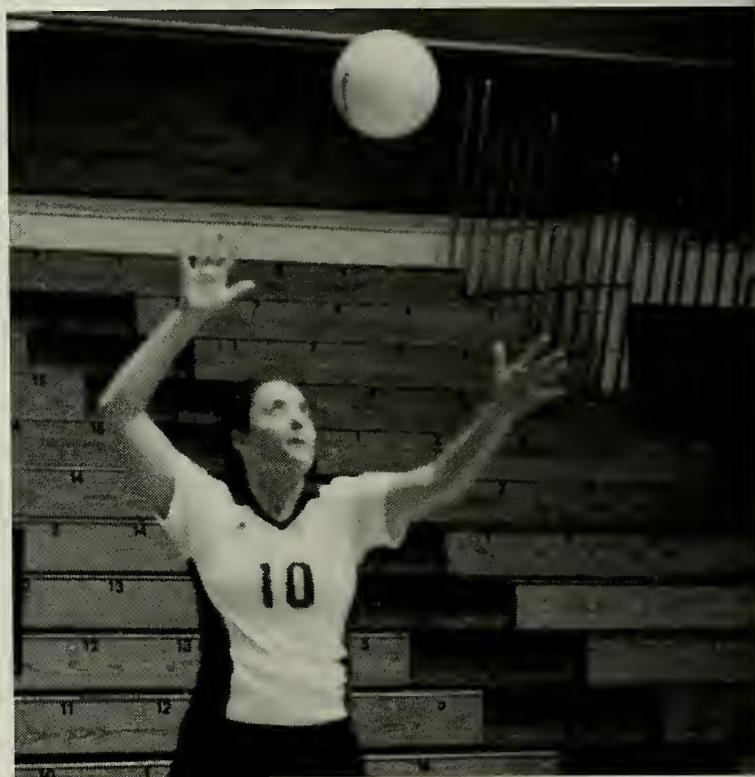

Sophomore midfielder Sarah Cook rushes towards the ball as she tries to move it upfield towards the goal.

Women's Volleyball

This season began with high hopes of improving the teams record, and according to the ending results of sixteen wins and thirteen losses they clearly ameliorated from last year.

Beginning with a rough start of three consecutive losses they picked up their spirits with a well deserved clean sweep over Seton Hall. They placed fifth in the conference, and ended the season with a loss to George Washington. The two seniors, Jill Meyers and Kari Hogancamp, had an impressive year. Both went to Atlantic 10 All-Conference Volleyball Team, and both were eligible and became members of the 1,000 Kills and 1,000 Digs Club. Hogancamp was a two time Atlantic 10 Player-of-The-Week, and was also Athlete-of-The-Week-Honors. Not only did the departing seniors have an astounding year, their coach, was inducted into the Connecticut Volleyball Hall of Fame.

It's Getting Harrier Around Here

The Men's Cross Country team finished their season by placing 15th in the NCAA East Regional qualifier where they competed against thirty two other teams. This year the Minuteman saw a surprising group of underclassmen emerge from their team. Hopefully, this group of underclassmen can fill the void left behind by a pair of two gifted seniors, Matt Ely and Sean Murphy.

The Minutemen finished their season against Boston University in the Hockey East Quarterfinals, where they fell to the Terriers in a best of three series. The Minutemen finished their 1999-2000 season with an overall record of 11-20-5 and a 5-15-4 record against teams in the Hockey East.

At the end of the season, the Minutemen also saw the departure of their long time coach, Joe Mallen. Mallen leaves the team after seven years with a record of 77-144-18. Coach Mallen came to the team in attempt to rebuild the hockey program after a fourteen year absence. With Mallen at the helm, the team had some important wins over national ranked teams including Boston College, Maine, and New Hampshire.

Cheerleading

trying something new, no matter
difficult.*

You remember them by their daring stunts, enormous muscles, relentless enthusiasm and spirit, also their additional push-up's for every touchdown. The cheerleaders are a core part to our Minuteman pride. Through the heat and blistering sun of summer, the coolness of autumn, and the usual stressful games in the Mullins Center; the cheerleaders always seem to try their hardest, never slacking in any area. The Minutemen are forever lucky to have these faithful, uplifting, and amazing people on their side.

Continuously smiling throughout every game.

Every stunt is done with effort and it shows.

And they keep on cheering.

Events

Fine Arts Center

The Fine Arts Center is the only multidisciplinary cultural center of its kind serving the campus community and western Massachusetts. Events span the performing and visual arts, and multicultural and educational programs. Comprehensive in scope, the Center offers the region's only mix of classical music, dance, theater, jazz, Broadway, special events, and gallery exhibitions. Collaborative educational programs enhance the academic work of students at the University and serve the region through the Five Colleges, public schools, and community groups. In addition, University students are provided incredible access to world-class artists through subsidized tickets ranging from $5-$9.

Fine Arts Center

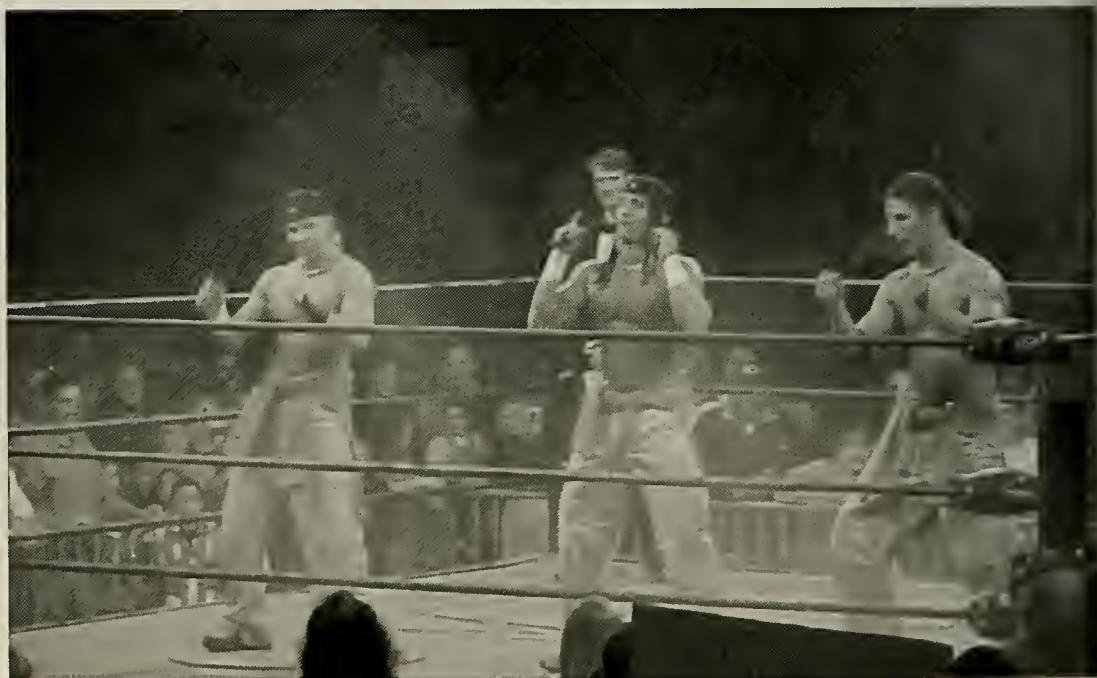

William D. Mullins Center

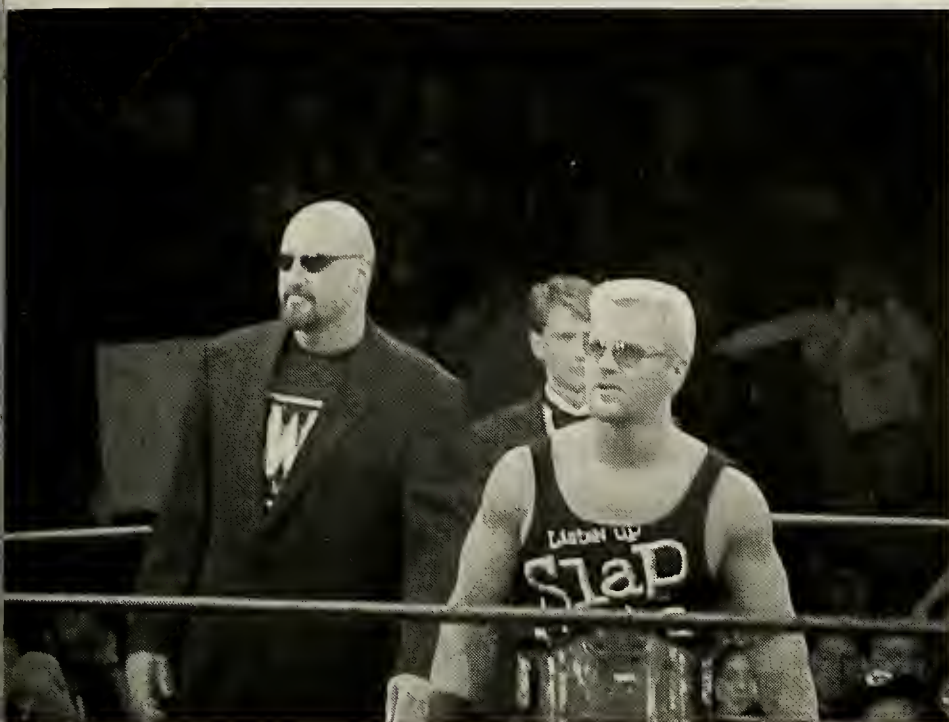

The William D. Mullins Memorial Center sits on the western edge of the scenic University of Massachusetts campus in Amherst, MA. Opened in January of 1993, this multi-purpose facility offers seating for up to 10,500 people and boasts state-of-the-art sound, lighting, acoustic and theatrical systems, as well as an international-sized ice surface. The Mullins Center is proud to host concerts, family shows, sporting events, trade shows, conferences and theatrical performances attracting people from all over Western Massachusetts, Northern Connecticut, Vermont, New York and New Hampshire. Our versatile arena can accommodate virtually any size audience including:

Intimate theater setting (3,500)
Center and end stage concerts (up to 10,500),
Basketball games (9,500), and
Hockey games and ice events (8,500).

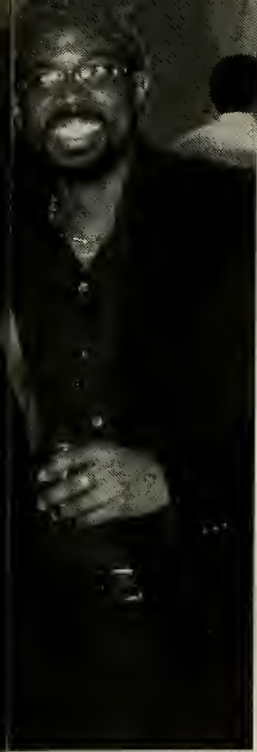

Home to the UMass Men's and Women's basketball teams and the UMass Hockey team, a member of collegiate hockey's most prestigious conference, Hockey East, the Mullins Center has hosted such professional teams as the Boston Bruins and New England Blizzard. A separate international-size ice rink and seven racquetball courts, available for public use, are adjacent to the arena.

In addition to University-sponsored events such as the University forum on multiculturalism featuring Bill Cosby and the Annual Spring Concert, the Mullins Center continues to provide quality entertainment including performances from All-time Greats: Elton John, Aerosmith, James Taylor, and Barry Manilow; Rock favorites: Red Hot Chili Peppers, Foo Fighters, Creed, Sevendust, Phish, Dave Matthews Band, The Goo Goo Dolls, Tonic, KoRn 311, The Smashing Pumpkins, KRS-One, A Tribe Called Quest, Tori Amos, Alanis Morissette, Indigo Girls and Ani DiFranco; and Country Music Stars: Willie Nelson, Johnny Cash, Waylon Jennings, Travis Tritt and Kris Kristofferson and, most recently, Martina McBride. Family and Skating shows, such as Discover Stars on Ice, the Magic of David Copperfield, and Rugrats A Live Adventure, have dazzled thousands. Need to fine-tune your event? Mariah Carey, Jimmy Buffett, Bryan Adams, David Bowie and Nine Inch Nails found the Mullins Center to be the ideal venue for their rehearsals.

Graduation

LETTER FROM THE CHANCELLOR

The University of Massachusetts Amherst has been shaping lives and creating memories for nearly 150 years. The campus's sesquicentennial will take place in 2013.

Many changes have occurred as the school grew from a small agricultural college called Massachusetts Agriculture College, or Mass Aggie, into today's comprehensive land grant public research institution, the founding campus of a five-campus system. But through the years, small or large, the University has always been committed to providing access to high quality higher education.

From the 34 members of the Pioneer Class who entered Mass Aggie Oct 2, 1867, to the 24,000 enrolled at the beginning of the 21st century, our students have worked to create a future for themselves, each marching to the tune of his or her personal drummer in determining their careers and commitments, but guided as well by the shaping force of education at a land grant university.

Every year at Commencement I watch thousands of students celebrate both the past and the future. Most leave our beautiful campus with mixed feelings of happiness and sadness. They are happy to be entering a new stage of growth, confident in the knowledge attained at the University. Yet, they are sad to be leaving a place where they experienced so much, developed friendships that will last a lifetime, and created so many special memories.

The Index was initiated with the Pioneer Class and has been in continuous existence ever since, providing a repository of memories for thousands upon thousands of alumni.

As we celebrate our sesquicentennial in 2013, it will be interesting to look back at today's Index, along with those previous years, to see how far we have come, how much has changed, and how much remains the same.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "David K. Scott". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

The Student Union Craft Center wishes the best of luck to the Class of 2000!

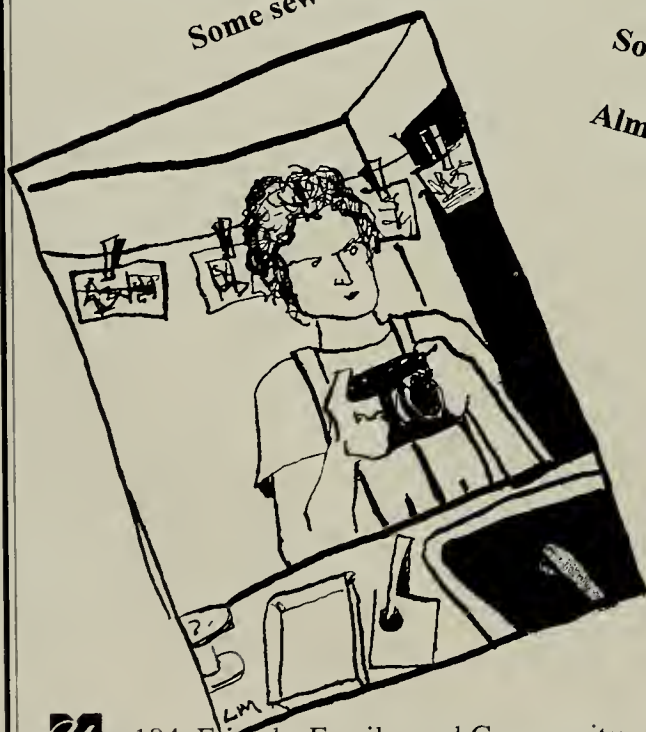

*Some came down to the Craft Center to make silver rings.
Some did leather work, spending hours over a leather belt or snugly moccasin.*

*Some batiked wall hangings, or tie-dyed colorful dresses.
Some silk-screened T-shirts for their team, some developed pictures.
Some sewed, whipping out party-dresses at the last moment.*

*Some came down to hang out with the staff and groove to the music.
Some did exquisite stain glass frames and lamps for Holiday presents.
Almost everyone came down to the Craft Center to chill out during finals.*

Congratulations
Elaine!
Now I share the light of my life with the world.
Love always,
Mom

You are loved for the little girl you were, the special woman you are now and the wonderful daughter you will always be...

Love,
Dad, Mom,
Christopher,
Jason
and Jennifer

I want to thank my family for constantly reminding me of who I am, and for pushing me as hard as I could go. I would also like to thank my friends at home for keeping me focused when times were tough. Lastly, I would like to thank my good friends here at school (they know who they are) for the best of times.

-Wes

I know I'm going to miss a lot of people.

Especially Camilla, GiGi,

all my life, though some have changed,
some forever, not for better,
some have gone and some remain.
All these places had their moments with lovers and friends I still can recall some are dead and some are living, in my life, I've loved them all.

Great hiking on all the trails ahead.

Love, Mom, Dad and

C.J. Hanley,

You've always made the Road of Life a pretty fun place to travel, with your enthusiasm and love for your family, friends, learning, working, music, biking and skiing.

Looking back down that road as you graduate in 2000, we can see what a difference you've made in our lives and in the lives of others-- at home and on the UMass campus, from your classes to the People's Market. Looking ahead, we can only see a bright future down that road, as you apply your talents, creativity and optimism in all you do!
Happy Graduation, Chris.
